The IX1D Software is designed to model the earth in a 3-D Cartesian space. Spring and berries Spring was only a little bit late this year. The snow is slowly but surely melting. The early spring air feels fresh and fresh; also the berry trees are standing all over the roads. About two weeks ago we decided to have lunch with our new friends from Germany. You should know that I love to go out to eat. The food is delicious, the people are so nice and relaxed and I always feel a little bit lighter after I leave that restaurant. I love that feeling. We drove to a restaurant that was recommended to us. We got there a little bit late but that was ok because we were walking in. The restaurant was called "Kimmert". It was a restaurant and a wine bar and a café and everything! They had delicious salads with a variety of cheeses, delicious sourdough bread and salted nuts and they had homemade cake, coffee, juice and a wine bar! In the restaurant you could also order a glass of wine by the glass, also by the bottle and we chose two options. You could choose a red or a white wine by the glass, also by the bottle. You could also choose sparkling or still water. The red and white wines were both very tasty. They were both well-balanced and delicious. We had an apple tart for dessert which was delicious! I'll definitely go there again. I highly recommend their coffee. 82157476af
